1. Bardala, Tubas |

a new outpost is stealing the town's lands and making the residents' life insufferable. One of the settlers is Eitan Ze'ev, known for shooting Palestinians.

Bardala is located in the north Jordan Valley. At the end of last month, an outpost appeared, close to Palestinian-owned private land, and constructions for a road to connect it to the main road are done daily on palestinian private land.

2. Since then, every time the residents tried to access their fields, they were met with a combined settler-soldier militia that physically assaulted them, threw gas bombs at them, and kidnapped a few Palestinian farmers to a nearby military base for a few hours of detention.

3. Since the outpost was established, army and settler invasions to Bardala increased, and one time settlers accompanied by army forces even invaded Bardala's school, assaulted people and shot live fire. The person wearing flanel shirt in the first video is called Eitan Ze'ev, and the settler pointing his gun and screaming in the second video is called Shai Eigner. Remember these names.

4. One of the settlers carrying out the school invasion is Eitan Ze'ev, who is known his activity in the violent outpost "Sde Efrayim", between Kufer Na'am and Ras Karkar, and on their lands. Over there, 4 years ago, he killed Khaled Nofel, a 34 year old Palestinian, husband and father. Ze'ev was never charged for the killing for claims of "self defence", but Khaled wasn't armed, and was a day before he was suppose to reunite with his wife and child after a long atay in Jordan.

5. Ze'ev is also one of the founders of Havat Dorot outpost on the lands of Bidya. Over there, on July 2020, Ze'ev shot a Palestinian farmer trying to access his lands. He was brought to court and convicted, but never went to prison.

6. Another settler seen invading the school is Shai Eigner. Eigner works in the Jordan Valley settlements' council (meaning - funded directly by Israel) and was seen multiple times invading Palestinian villages, accompanying settlers trying to take over lands, in demolition of Palestinian houses etc. Here he's seen invading the village of Nabe3 al ghazal and filming people.

7. The people of Bardala remain steadfast on their lands, but the new outpost threatens to grab immense parts of their lands, the land they work in order to provide their families. The violence of the settlers, and of the army forces protecting it, can have terrible results. The village's call is to remove the illegal outpost and hold Israel accountable for its crimes against them.
